

DRINKS OF THE LOST SIERRA

Euell Gibbons Soda - $6

Ever drink a pine tree? Cool like Euell with this icy, non-alcoholic, locally-made pine syrup and soda that will tackle the hottest summer day.

Euell's Mule - $12

The sun is hot up here so we take Knob Creek Whisky, zesty ginger beer and add a blast of locally-made pine syrup over ice to cool it out.

The Wandermelon Cocktail - $12

When a watermelon came to the Lost Sierra looking for gold, and got so lost it ended up all the way down in Brazil, turned into a Shrub, got mixed up with Cachaça (ka-SHA-sa), the traditional Brazilian spirit, and shaken with a few icy limes then poured into a cocktail glass with ancho chili lime salt on the rim...well what else could it be called? Sip and experience how wild the Lost Sierra can be!

The Eagle - $13

Beefeater Gin, Maraschino syrup, fresh-squeezed lemonade and a dash of Creme de Violette Liqueur in a tall, sexy glass with ice.

Pineapple Turmeric Margarita - $13

Patron Tequila, Ancho Chili liqueur, fresh turmeric syrup and tangy pineapple juice over ice and rimmed with ancho chili lime salt.
So good and good for you!

Giggle Water - $11

Bombay gin, coconut water, lime juice, tonic syrup, and a hint of violets to tickle your nose. Drink it slow lest the giggles overtake you.

The Jimi Cũc Cocktail - $12

Hendricks gin, fresh cucumber, some agave nectar and a dash of lime served up and coooold.
Summer in a glass, with class.
